

Mount Vema's 2.1 billion golles investment plan in India includes Health & Medical

August 06, 2021 – The Kingdom of Mount Vema will invest about 2.1 billion golles in India, according to sources familiar with Mount Vema's overseas development plans.

The source told VSBCnews that the investment is part of a long-term growth strategy, to be proposed to India with the aim to establish a trade deal that would include the opening of a factory in India for Southland Health & Medical.

Southland Health & Medical is a Mount Vema company listed on the Mount Vema Stock Exchange, and specialises in procurement, distribution, development, and production of pharmaceutical and biotechnology. As well as electronics, especially on the area of health technology.

Southland Health & Medical is currently investing in research and development, and intends to open a factory in India to develop healthcare software products.

As Mount Vema starts to unveil its global development plans, the territory continues to seek reciprocal trade deals that can also facilitate exports of Mount Vema products to other markets.
